ADDENDUM A

Sex Offender Counseling: Sienna Counseling believes that sex offender treatment planning is best served when an initial evaluation is done utilizing several assessment tools in order to identify specific treatment issues. The goal set for the probationer is - no new victims.

Group counseling usually takes most individuals 34-36 months (completion of the workbook) based upon once a week group participation. If group only occurs twice a month, it usually takes individuals 36-48 months to complete their primary treatment.

During the course of counseling the probationer is required to take a polygraph once every 6 to 8 months.

A cognitive-behavioral approach is used in treatment to examine the relationship between thinking and behaving and sexually abusive behaviors. Identification of the probationer's mistaken belief and thinking errors are critical in helping them to understand, not only where this thinking came from, but how these distortions have affected them negatively resulting in sexually abusive behaviors. Corrections to personal thinking errors are made by writing behavioral contracts associated with key steps in the offence cycle. The counseling also incorporates ammonia caps and deviant script preparation and a relapse prevention plan.

Chaperone Training Course: It is desirable to have each probationer have a Chaperone in the community with them. A chaperone is a support person, either a spouse, family member, or a close friend who has developed a basic understanding of treatment issues and the offence cycle by attending the Chaperone Training Course. The chaperone accompanies the offender to special events in the community (with therapist and probation approval) and works as a support person for the offender when dealing with any issues that could compromise the offender's safety in the community. The chaperone is never solely responsible for the offender's safety in the community... that is primarily the responsibility of the offender.

ABEL Screen: A two part examination involving a written part exploring offender's involvement in deviant sexual behavior throughout their life and a visual test on a computer identifying the offender's subjective self report attraction to various sexual scenarios by age group and gender.

MSI II Evaluation: This test is used to identify 39 different categories of information ranging from admissions of sexual crimes to the level of awareness in planning the sexual abuse behaviors and personal history involving abusive experiences in early childhood. This test is used as a pre-treatment and post treatment measure.

Special Terms:

Offenders must have completed an MSI-II and an ABEL Screen within the first six months of therapy. A PAI may be administered at the provider's discretion.

Each participant must purchase materials for the class at $30.00 paid to the provider prior to beginning therapy.

Chaperone Training does not occur on a routine basis and will be created when there are a sufficient number of individuals to take the class.

Individual/Family Counseling is authorized for seven (7) hours per year per participant.
